

DOLPHIN AND WHALE OBSERVATION WEEK 2019 in Tarifa

Humans have always been fascinated – almost mystically – by dolphins and whales. Many old cultures and tribes have shown their admiration and closeness to these marine mammals through their rituals, tales and traditions. For many people, the gentle giants of the oceans are a symbol for the unsustainable way nature and environment are treated.

THE COURSE PROGRAMME

In the Strait of Gibraltar we provide the opportunity to observe whales and dolphins in freedom. Any enthusiastic whale-, dolphin- and nature lover can participate in week-long courses from April to October. Because of a distance of only 14 km between Africa and Europe, the Strait is just perfect for launching observation trips. Due to the concurrence of the Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea, the combined current conditions in the Strait of Gibraltar constitute an important feeding ground for different species of whales and dolphins.

Our programme is suitable both for adults and for kids.

On our daily boat trips (approx. 2 hours) you can experience whales and dolphins in their natural environment while we are studying their behaviour from our boats. While watching the animals you can consolidate your knowledge on these fascinating marine mammals. We observe whales and dolphins on 98 % of our trips, as - thanks to our long-time experience of photo identification - we know about the migratory behaviour of the pilot whales depending on the tides.

Strong winds made Tarifa famous amongst wind surfers. These weather conditions, however, can sometimes make boat trips impossible. For that case we have prepared interesting alternative programmes. Our marine biologists and other experts will give lectures to provide you with valuable information about marine mammals and we can take you to guided trips to the biotopes like the sand dune or the cliffy coast just off Tarifa.

WHALES AND DOLPHINS

4 species of dolphins can be seen throughout the year: common dolphins, striped dolphins, bottlenose dolphins and pilot whales, which also belong to the family of the dolphins. 12-15 families of pilot whales have their feeding grounds in the Strait of Gibraltar and thus we encounter them regularly. From April to July sperm whales can be observed in the deeper waters of the Strait. During July and August, we can also watch Orcas near Tangier, where they are hunting tunas (or rather snatching them off the hook from fisher-men). Fin whales can also be seen, however, not quite as often. It is important for us to always treat the animals with the demanded respect in order to minimize any disturbance. Therefore our skippers are specially trained to drive the boat in a careful manner.

WEATHER, CLOTHING, INSURANCES

Generally the weather is nice and warm, but strong winds are very frequent. Therefore and especially for the boat trips you should bring a warm sweater, a wind-proof jacket, comfortable and sea-water resistant shoes, a sun-hat, sun protection, sunglasses and a camera, if you like to take pictures. Be also aware that we are not responsible for your personal equipment.

Each participant has to have his own insurance.

Please mention any physical handicap on the registration form.

COSTS

The prices for the week-long programme and the accommodations are listed on the attached registration form. After registration you will receive a provisional confirmation with the invoice for the down payment of 50% of course fees. As soon as we receive your payment, your place will be reserved. The other half of the amount has to be settled at least 30 days before arrival. In case of cancellation we will charge you a modest fee.

FURTHER DETAILS

Courses take place in either case. However, in case of bad weather we might have to change the program. For these days we have prepared alternative programs. Of course, you will always have enough spare time to discover the beautiful surroundings of Tarifa or to do sports such as snorkelling, scuba-diving, surfing, horse-back riding or just relaxing and sunbathing.

firmm® has two main objectives: Research on whales and dolphins in the Strait of Gibraltar and information about the importance of the protection of the oceans and its inhabitants. We hope you will leave us full of enthusiasm regarding both aspects.

TARIFA AND SURROUNDINGS

Tarifa was first mentioned (under another name) in the writings of Plinius. Excavations and cave drawings in the immediate surroundings of the town are witnesses of long past cultures, whereas the more recent history is to some extent reflected in the architecture of buildings that still exist today. Here, the past and the future merge to form the present. And this is how the visitor should try to experience Tarifa. If you walk through the old town centre without prejudices or definite expectations, you will discover much hidden beauty. Picturesque corners, Flamenco music, flower-laden windows, peacefulness. And then, only a few streets further on, just the opposite: Crowded cafés, restaurants, bars and discotheques, with happy people – expressing their joy of life.

In the surroundings of the town you will find a generous – and at the same time somehow unapproachable – type of nature. The Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea offer ideal conditions for scuba-diving, snorkelling and surfing, the landscape around Tarifa for taking long walks, doing bike-tours, horse-back riding and watching wild birds etc. And should you feel like getting to know the "IN" places of the area, what about a one day trip to Sevilla, Algeciras, Gibraltar, Marbella, Málaga or to Morocco – which are just around the corner? Tarifa and surroundings have a lot to offer. Some things are obvious, others have to be looked for first, but in any case – it is worth it!
